One of the fastest growing sectors, it is extremely export oriented and labour intensive. India is deemed to be the hub of the global jewellery market because of its low costs and availability of high-skilled labour. India is the world's largest cutting and polishing centre for diamonds, with the cutting and polishing industry being well supported by government policies.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Gems and Jewellery sector is witnessing changes in consumer preferences due to adoption of western lifestyle. Consumers are demanding new designs and varieties in jewellery, and the company is able to fulfill their changing demands better than the other local players. Moreover, increase in per capita income has led to an increase in sales of jewellery as the jewellery is a status symbol in India.

The Government of India, offered tax cuts for the middle class and other sections of society (5 per cent for the Rs 250,000-500,000 tax slab; which was 10 per cent initially). That initiatives will drive consumption, which will be favourable to the gems and jewellery industry.
